

Capturing the Sacred Through Photography

Taught by Juliet van Otteren

Date: Thursdays, February 28, March 6 and March 13

Time: 7-9 PM Cost: $120 Adults/$80 Children Click on the arrow below to listen to a 15 minute interview I had with Juliet van

Otteren about her background, a portrait session she had with Stephen Hawking

(Author, A Brief History of Time), and a class she is teaching, beginning this

Thursday, February

28th. {mgmediabot2}path=media/audio/2008_02_25_juliet_van_otteren.mp3|width=300|height=300{/mgmediabot2} Click Arrow to Listen Now

Capturing the Sacred Through Photography Workshop

Date: Thursdays, February 28, March 6 and March 13

Time: 7-9 PM Cost: $120 Adults/$80 Children

Due to the tremendous success of the first class, Unity Church of the Hills is offering it again. Learn to take more soulful and profoundly feeling photographs. In this workshop, renowned photographer and author, Juliet van Otteren, will share her knowledge with you about what she does to access the soul of everything she photographs. Participants will spend three evenings together sharing, discussing photographs and learning to capture more meaningful images. Juliet's philosophy is, "I believe that my images express an awakening from the dark minimalism of yesterday and are the enunciation of the spiritual inner expansion of tomorrow. Not art for arts sake, but art for the upliftment of the human spirit." Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult. An exhibit of the students work will be on display following the class. Sign up at the Information Center. Be sure to bring your camera to class. For more information about Juliet's work, visit her website at: <http://www.jvop.com/>. To Register for the Class, visit: <http://store.unityhills.org/ProductDetails.asp?ProductCode=CSP> Unity Church of the Hills is located in Northwest Austin at 9905 Anderson Mill Road. Phone: 512-335-4449. www.unityhills.org Map to Location: <http://www.mapquest.com/map>